

Noun Clauses

A noun clause is a dependent clause that functions as a noun in a sentence. A noun clause can be the subject, direct object, indirect object, object of a preposition, subject complement, or appositive.

Example: What I resented was his smug superiority.

DIRECTIONS: Underline the noun clause in each sentence.

1. I forgot what I was going to say.
2. You may choose which bedroom you want.
3. Please tell whoever shows up that the party was cancelled.
4. George will believe whatever I say.
5. My hope is that you will participate.
6. Whoever did this is going to get in trouble.
7. Whatever Jane wants is what we will do.
8. How you do something is important.
