

Sarah's Hobby

Sarah spends every afternoon in front of the television. As soon as she gets home from school, she picks up the remote, turns on the T.V., and changes the channels until it is time for dinner.

"Why don't you just pick something and watch it?" her mother asks her.

"I don't want to watch T.V.," Sarah says.

"Then what are you doing?"

"I just like to push the buttons on the remote!"
