

Name _____ Compare and Contrast

Compare and Contrast

Comparing means to look for things that are the same. Contrasting means to look for things that are different. You can compare and contrast two things in the same piece of writing. Use transitional words to suggest whether something is being compared or contrasted. Compare-and-contrast writing is important because it gives readers a deeper understanding of the relationship between things.

Compare and contrast two types of animals.

Compare and contrast yesterday and today.
