

The Artist

Olivia loved art. She was very good at drawing pictures with a pencil. She was also very good at coloring inside the lines with crayons. But until she started school, Olivia had never had the chance to paint.

As soon as she used it, Olivia loved paint! It was bright, and colorful, and goopy. She could spread it thinly or thickly. Drawing or coloring was fun, but for Olivia, making a painting felt like a very special thing to do.
