It was yet another cold, snowy day in the middle of a very long winter.

Marcus was bored and grumpy because he wasn't able to play outside. "Summer is better than winter," Marcus said. "In the summer I can ride my bike, and play ball, and swim." This gave Marcus' mother an idea.

"Get dressed," she said. "We are going out to have some summer fun."

Puzzled, Marcus got dressed. They drove to a big building where he had never been before. Inside was a big swimming pool!

"See?" his mother said. "Winter can be fun too!"
