

Name _____ Compare and Contrast

The Alternating Method

There are two ways to approach writing compare-and-contrast papers. In the alternating method, you compare and contrast two subjects point for point. In the dividing method, you make all of your points about the first subject; then you make all of your points about the second subject.

DIRECTIONS: Write a paragraph that compares and contrasts the topics below using the alternating method.

Compare and contrast your experience so far this year in school with your last year's school experience.
