

Adverb Clauses

An adverbial clause is a dependent clause that modifies a verb. In each sentence below, find the adverbial clause. Write the word it modifies on the short line and the clause on the longer line. Circle the subordinate conjunction (words that tell how, when, why or where).

1. Ellie ate an apple since she was hungry.

_____

2. I called you as soon as I heard.

_____

3. Roger studied until his mother called him for dinner.

_____

4. I don't have a cat because I am allergic to them.

_____

5. The sun came out after it stopped raining.

_____

6. I'm going to read this article while I eat.

_____

7. You should think twice before you do that.

_____