

Climax vs. Resolution

What is the difference between the resolution and the climax of a story? Where does each one occur in a story?

Are there any circumstances in which these two story parts might blend together? Explain.
