

Point of View in Fiction

Is the character who is telling the story the same character that the story is about?

What is the point of view? How do you know?

What is the relationship between the point of view and the central problem or conflict in the story?

Whose story is this?

Write a brief summary of the story.

Could this story have been told from a different point of view? How would a different point of view have made this story different? Why do you think the author chose this point of view?

How does the point of view contribute to your experience of the story (does it create suspense, does it create humor, etc.)
