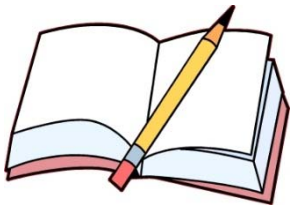
Name _____ Biographies



Biography

A biography is the story of someone's life. It includes many facts about the person, including what their personality was like. Information about their personality can come from interviews with people who knew the subject or from contemporary written accounts of the person, such as newspaper and magazine articles, letters, or diary entries.

YOUR ASSIGNMENT: Thinking about the biography you just read, choose two character traits that best describe the subject. Provide at least two text citations (include page #) to support each character trait you have identified.

Trait #1: _____
