

Sammy and Ray

Sammy the sloth did not like to exercise. Ray the rabbit loved to run. It was the only thing the two did not agree on.

"Exercise does not matter," Sammy said to Ray. "I am a sloth. I am supposed to be slow and lazy."

"Exercise DOES matter," Ray replied.
"What if you have to get away from some danger?"

"What danger?" Sammy said. "Nobody bothers me."

So Sammy got slower and lazier all the time, while the worried Ray stayed on the run.
