

ANSWERS WILL VARY

Answers may vary, depending on the reference text used.

	Correct?
The amount of people in that place was unreal.	No
We waste a large amount of water.	Yes
Only a small amount of people are going.	No
We are anxious to start this project.	No
John became anxious when I was late getting home.	Yes
Mom, can I go to the party?	No
May we help with this project?	Yes
I can play the flute.	Yes
My parents said I mayn't go.	Yes
My parents said I can't go.	Yes

The rules of standard English grammar and usage are matters of convention, and they change over time. There is not always one definitive answer, as the more often words are used in a certain way, the more likely that usage is to become the "correct" one.