

ANSWERS

Amplification: expanding or embellishing (amplifying) a sentence or statement by adding additional information.

Anaphora: the repetition of a word or phrase at the beginning of successive clauses. It adds additional instances of a word or phrase, adding to the significance of that word or phrase, but does not add additional information.

Epiphora: the repetition of a word at the end of successive clauses or sentences. It adds additional instances of a word or phrase, adding to the significance of that word or phrase, but does not add additional information.