

Autobiographical Incident Essay

An autobiographical incident essay is an essay that tells the story of an event that happened in the author's life. The event is not only important to the author, but it typically has some point of interest or wider application that makes it potentially relevant to other people as well.

DIRECTIONS: Think of three incidents from your life that you think might work for an autobiographical incident essay. Fill out the organizer for each incident.

Incident	What did you learn from it?

Of the three incidents, which do you think might have the most meaning or impact for someone else? Why?
