

ANSWERS

language: he uses stark imagery and vivid figurative language punctuation: the constant use of dashes indicate that he is constantly losing track of his thoughts, or that his thoughts are changing direction, or that he frequently pauses and attempts to clarify what he has just said.

structure: he speaks in very short sentences and some fragments. He uses hyperbaton several times to make his sentence structure slightly unusual ("object there was none. Passion there was none.).