Uncertainty with Quantification

Many words and phrases act like markers in a text to indicate to readers that the author is less than certain about what is being said. Collectively, these words and phrases that indicate uncertainty are called uncertainty qualifiers. One category of uncertainty qualifiers are called expressions of uncertainty with quantification, for example: all, most, many, some, etc.

DIRECTIONS: Study the text provided. Find several examples of expressions of uncertainty with quantification. Write them below. What is the author uncertain about?

Location in Text	Expressions of Uncertainty with Quantification	What is the author uncertain about in this example?