

Important vs. Interesting

DIRECTIONS: Read the assigned text. Sort the information into what is really important for understanding the text, and what is interesting, but your ability to understand the main idea of the text does not depend on it. Then, using what you have identified as the most important information, write a short summary of the text.

Important

Interesting, but Not Important

My Short Summary
