

Nonverbal Communication

Nonverbal communication is what you communicate without words. Nonverbal communication includes facial expressions, posture, and gestures. How could you use non-verbal in each situation? In each situation, what do you think it is appropriate to convey with body language?

Situation	What Body Language Would You Use?	What Would Your Body Language Convey?
You are giving a presentation before the entire student body.
A friend is late meeting you for an important appointment.
A good friend you haven't seen in a very long-time surprises you at your home.
You are telling a funny story to your friends at the lunch table.
You are explaining to your parents why you failed math.
