The Fiction Premise

The premise is the starting point of every writing project. It is the expression in a single sentence of a complete idea of what the work will be about. Answer the questions below, then try to write your story's premise.

1. Who is the main character?

2. What is their situation at the beginning of the story?

3. What is their story goal?

4. What stands between them accomplishing their story goal?

5. What is the biggest conflict or problem that they face?

6. Write your story's premise.
