

ANSWERS

1. Articles of Confederation
2. the government under this document was too weak. It did not have any money, nor did it have any way to get money. It was unable to pay the soldiers in its army. Neither could the country pay its debts to foreign countries
3. was to set up a government that had enough power to run the country without imposing on the rights of states or individual citizens.
4. The Executive Branch leads the country. The Legislative Branch makes the laws, and the Judicial Branch enforces the laws.