

ANSWERS

It is an Italian sonnet. It is 14 lines composed of an octave and a sestet. The octave introduces the problem that the speaker feels they are having trouble connecting to God. They are struggling, and feeling betrayed by their own reason, which attacks their faith. The solution is for God to overpower them, to break them down so that they can be built back up again in faith.