

ANSWERS

Jane Austen was an English novelist best known for her six major novels about the British landed gentry at the end of the 18th century.

Born: December 16, 1775, Steventon, UK

Died: July 18, 1817, Winchester, UK

Austen had a tutor, then was educated at home. Austen did not become famous in her lifetime, and did not earn a lot of money. She didn't earn any money as a writer until she was 36.

Interesting facts will vary.