

ANSWERS

Exposition: Guy Montag is a fireman who burns books for a living in a futuristic society. He meets his new neighbor, who asks him if he is happy.

Rising Action: Guy is really bothered by the question. His wife tries to commit suicide again. We learn Guy has some books hidden in his house. He becomes increasingly estranged from his wife. He begins to read the books. Captain Beatty knows Montag took a book. Montag grows more frightened and paranoid.

Climax: Beatty orders Montag to burn down his own house.

Falling Action: Montag runs. The hound is tracking him.

Resolution: Montag joins a band of people hiding from the law who are preserving entire works of literature in their memories until the day they can write them down again.
