

ANSWERS

Confederate States	They lost the possibility of European support, as support for the Confederacy became linked with support for slavery. This ended the possibility of being recognized by European powers as an independent country. They also lost agricultural workers, factory workers, and soldiers. and their economy suffered.
Union States	The Emancipation Proclamation broadened the goals of the Union War effort. It also secured European support for the Union cause.
Union Army	The Emancipation Proclamation decreed that freed slaves could serve in the Union Army, so the number of Union soldiers increased at a time when more manpower was desperately needed
Black Americans	The Emancipation Proclamation was an important step towards outlawing slavery and allowing ex-slaves to become American citizens.