

Beginning or Ending?

DIRECTIONS: Cut and paste to identify the story part.

One day when Tim answered the door, he found himself face to face with a monster.

That's the story of how our cat Coco Puff got his name.

I've known many dogs since, but there hasn't been one like Buster.

Jill and I met in first grade, and since the moment she asked to borrow a pencil, my life has been a nonstop adventure.

Some adventures start when wake up in the morning; then there are those that begin as you fall asleep.

Fortunately, no harm came of it. But from that day on, I was much more careful with my words.

beginning

beginning

beginning

end

end

end