

ANSWERS

A spider saves the life of a pig named Wilbur.

Exposition: Fern saves the life of the runt of a litter of pigs. She names him Wilbur and raises him.

Rising Action: Wilbur learns that he is going to be killed and eaten. A spider in the barnyard decides to try to save his life. She writes a series of messages in her web and Wilbur becomes famous.

Climax: Wilbur wins a prize at the fair. Charlotte dies.

Falling Action: Wilbur carefully brings Charlotte's egg sack back to the barnyard and protects the babies. He misses Charlotte.

Resolution: The eggs hatch. All but three of the babies fly away to start their own lives. Three stay with Wilbur and become his new friends.