

ANSWERS

1. His new neighbor, Clarisse, asks him if he is happy. The question upsets him, and he starts thinking about it. At first he thinks he is because he thinks he should be.
2. No. His life is quickly revealed as without meaning. He is lonely and isolated.
3. to burn houses where people have books.
4. books, because when people start to have ideas and form opinions and question things, that supposedly leads to unhappiness.
5. he has some books hidden in the air duct in his house.
6. His living room is three screens, which is her "family." He and his wife don't talk to each other. His wife keeps trying to kill herself.
7. A professor Montag met in the park. He saw him reading, though Faber hid the book. He and Montag talked. Montag reaches out to him after he starts reading.
8. The fire chief. He knows Montag has the books.
9. a robot that can be programmed with the DNA of a person and it will then track them down and kill them.
10. because people stopped reading them all on their own
11. by quoting from books; to show him that it's better to burn books than to read them
12. burn down his own house
13. Montag joins a group of wanderers who are preserving books in their minds by memorizing them until there comes a time when they can be written down again.