

Indefinite Singular Pronouns

A pronoun is a word that takes the place of a noun. An indefinite pronoun doesn't specifically identify what it refers to.

DIRECTIONS: Read each sentence. Choose an indefinite singular pronoun that can replace each underlined word or words.

| | | | |
|---------|---------|-----------|----------|
| one | anyone | everyone | somebody |
| someone | anybody | everybody | nobody |

1. None of the students went outside for recess.
2. I don't know which boy called my name.
3. This cookie is for any person.
4. The group is standing outside.
5. A human being rang the doorbell.
6. Any boy or girl could have done that.
7. A crowd has gathered outside the school.
8. One of the students must have left this.