

ANSWERS WILL VARY

According to Jewish tradition, after the Maccabees defeated the Greeks, there was only enough oil left in the Temple to burn for one day. However, the oil burned for eight days. Today, we light the Hanukkah menorah to remember and celebrate this miracle.

Hanukkah is celebrated by the Jewish people.

Hanukkah begins on the 25th day of the Jewish month of Kislev, which falls sometimes in November or December.

Hanukkah lasts for eight days.

Hanukkah is celebrated with food, games, gifts, and family time.