Sample answers:

When you have a lot of power, you have a lot of responsibility for other people, as well as a responsibility to use that power well. Also, if you have the power to help in a situation, you have the responsibility to do so.

If you don't believe in or fight for anything, then you aren't likely to make any real difference in the world.

You should keep your enemies close so you know what to expect from them.

There is always hope.

We can't control what happens. We can only deal with it.
