

ANSWERS

1. goose, gander; to show that what is good for an individual is good for all
2. rain, downpour; to show that one should expect a downpour whenever it rains, i.e., expect the worst
3. love, war; to show that they are more alike than people might think, since you never know what might happen in either case.
4. late, never; to put into perspective that doing something late is better than not doing it at all.
5. beggar, chooser; to show that if you are desperate, you aren't in a position to exercise any choice.