

ANSWERS WILL VARY

The poem mocks different ways to commit suicide. It is sarcastic because the flippant tone of the poem is in contrast to the seriousness of the subject. The effect is to make the reader wonder what the author's intent really is, which in turn makes the reader question whether or not the final line of the poem is sincere, or whether it's intended to be ironic or satirical.