

ANSWERS

An archaism is a word or expression that is no longer regularly used, or which is only used in specific fields or studies.

Although archaisms aren't often used anymore, they are still used. Words that are no longer ever used at all are referred to as being obsolete.

A neologism is a brand new word that has recently been created. It is so new that it may not yet be in common use.