ANSWERS

Premise 2 uses the word “most” and not all, so not all artists are good at drawing. Therefore, it’s a fallacy to say that Jean is good at drawing based on these premises.

Promise 2 is factually incorrect. Not all writers are novelists.

Premise 2 uses the word “many” and not all, so not all bachelors don’t cook for themselves. Therefore, it’s a fallacy to say that Hank doesn’t cook for himself.

Premise 2 is factually incorrect.
