

ANSW*ERS

This is both verbal and situational Irony. The quotation is ironic because the Puritans believed lying keeps a person from God, but in this situation, if people wanted to live, they had to lie and say they had been practicing witchcraft. If they told the truth, no one believed them and they would be sentenced to death.