

ANSWERS

Bathos is a tool for evoking laughter in an audience, so it is most appropriate for any work intended to have a comic effect, including songs, parodies, funny poems, television comedies, and movies. It is not suitable for work intended to be serious dramas or tragedies. If done unintentionally or unskillfully, bathos can undermine the seriousness of a work that is intended to be serious.