

ANSWERS WILL VARY

A man trying to mend his relationship with his wife, who thinks he doesn't love her anymore, checks them into the hotel for a romantic weekend getaway.

The woman spends her last $100 on a gift for her spoiled son, who doesn't appreciate it and tells his mother she wasted her money.

A desperate woman unaware of what happened at the local post office is waiting for a letter from the man she loves. When the letter doesn't come, she decides he must not love her anymore and takes her own life.