Middle School Months of the Year Writing Prompts

January - Time Capsule Letter

Imagine you're writing a letter to your future self that will be opened in 10 years. Describe your current interests, goals, and what you hope to achieve by then.

February - Invent a New Holiday

Create a new holiday that celebrates something important to you. Describe the traditions, decorations, and activities that would be part of this unique holiday.

March - My Hero Monologue

Write a monologue from the perspective of someone you admire—a historical figure, a family member, or even a fictional character. Explain why they are your hero and how they inspire you.

April - Beyond the Stars

You've been chosen to go on the first-ever trip to a newly discovered planet. Describe the journey, the planet's landscape, and the surprises you encounter.

May - Dream Vacation Brochure

Design a travel brochure for your dream vacation destination. Describe the sights, activities, and experiences that make this place special.

June - A Day in Another Time

If you could spend a day in any historical period, when and where would you go? Describe how you spend your day in this different time and what you learn from the experience.

Name _____

July - Unlikely Friendship

Write a story about an unlikely friendship between two characters—a human and a fantastical creature. Describe how they meet, what challenges they face, and how their friendship grows.

August - Future Technology

Imagine a technological invention that will exist in the future. Describe how it works, its benefits, and any potential drawbacks.

September - New School Adventure

You're starting at a new school and have the opportunity to create a club or activity. Describe what you choose to create, how you recruit members, and what your first meeting is like.

October - Rewrite a Classic

Choose a well-known fairy tale or story and rewrite it with a modern twist. How do the characters, setting, and plot change to fit into today's world?

November - Thankful Reflections

Reflect on the past year and write a letter to someone you're thankful for. Share specific memories and explain how they've made a positive impact on your life.

December - Alternative Holiday Celebration

Imagine a world where a different holiday is celebrated in December instead of the traditional ones. Describe the customs, decorations, and festivities of this new holiday.
