

Name _____

High School Months of the Year Writing Prompts

January - Resolutions Reimagined

Rather than setting typical New Year's resolutions, write a reflective essay about a personal motto or philosophy you want to live by this year and how it will guide your choices.

February - Love in the Digital Age

Compose a short story that explores the complexities of a romantic relationship that begins and develops primarily through digital communication and social media.

March - Ethical Dilemmas in Science

Write a persuasive essay discussing the ethical considerations surrounding a controversial scientific advancement, weighing the potential benefits against the ethical concerns.

April - Alternate History Narrative

Craft a short story set in an alternate historical timeline. Choose a pivotal event and explore how the world would be different if that event had unfolded differently.

May - Future of Education

In an opinion piece, discuss your vision for the future of education. Address technological advancements, alternative learning methods, and the role of traditional classrooms.

June - Cultural Exchange Journal

Pretend you're participating in a cultural exchange program and write a journal entry about your experiences in a foreign country. Describe the new sights, sounds, and perspectives you encounter.

Name _____

July - Personal Branding in the Digital World

Compose an essay discussing the concept of personal branding in the age of social media. How do individuals shape and present their online personas, and what impact does this have?

August - The Power of Storytelling

Reflect on a book, movie, or TV show that has had a profound impact on your life. Explain how the story's themes, characters, or messages influenced your perspective.

September - The Role of Art in Society

Write a reflective essay on the importance of art in society. Discuss how various forms of art can inspire change, challenge norms, and express emotions.

October - Exploring Identity Through Literature

Choose a piece of literature written by an author from a different culture or background. Write an analysis of how the themes of identity and belonging are explored in the work.

November - Social Responsibility and Technology

Craft an argumentative essay discussing the responsibilities of tech companies in addressing issues such as privacy, misinformation, and the potential negative impacts of their products.

December - The Meaning of Success

In a reflective piece, explore your personal definition of success. Consider how cultural norms, family expectations, and personal goals shape your understanding of achievement.