

Name _____

National Lemonade Day

Answer Key

Correction Marks

On a sunny Saturday morning, siblings Mia and liam had a bright idea. They decided to set up a lemonade stand right in their own backyard. With lemons from there tree and help from Mom, they squeezed and mixed, creating the most delicious lemonade. They decorated their stand with colorful posters and a big sign that read, "Mia and Liam's Lemonade – Best in Town!" They even made sure to have some ice-cold water for those who didn't want lemonade.

as the day went on, neighbors and friends gathered at their stand, drawn by the sweet scent of lemons and the siblings' cheerful smiles. Mia and Liam served up cups of lemonade with a side of giggles, sharing stories and laughter with their customers. The money they earned wasn't just for themselves; they decided to donate it to the local animal shelter to help furry friends in need. It was a day of sunny skies, refreshing lemonade, and the joy of knowing they made a difference, one cup at a time.

Complete Passage

On a sunny Saturday morning, siblings Mia and Liam had a bright idea. They decided to set up a lemonade stand right in their own backyard. With lemons from their tree and help from Mom, they squeezed and mixed, creating the most delicious lemonade. They decorated their stand with colorful posters and a big sign that read, "Mia and Liam's Lemonade – Best in Town!" They even made sure to have some ice-cold water for those who didn't want lemonade.

As the day went on, neighbors and friends gathered at their stand, drawn by the sweet scent of lemons and the siblings' cheerful smiles. Mia and Liam served up cups of lemonade with a side of giggles, sharing stories and laughter with their customers. The money they earned wasn't just for themselves; they decided to donate it to the local animal shelter to help furry friends in need. It was a day of sunny skies, refreshing lemonade, and the joy of knowing they made a difference, one cup at a time.