National Laundry Day

Answer Key

Correction Marks

In a cozy home with a big Backyard, lived a family of three: Lily, Max, and there fluffy dog, Buddy. One sunny morning, Lily and Max's mom announced, "Today is National Laundry Day, and we're going to have a laundry adventure!" Excitement filled the air as they gathered their colorful laundry baskets and a big bag of dirty clothes.

With a sense of porpose, they sorted their laundry into piles: darks, lites, and colors. Max even made a game out of it, challenging Lily to a sock-matching race. They loaded the clothes into the washing machine, added a scoop of detergent, and watched as it whirred to life. While the clothes were washing, they had a picnic in the backyard and played fetch with buddy. When the laundry was done, they raced to the clothesline and hung the clothes up to dry in the warm sun. The whole family had so much fun that they decided to make laundry day an adventure every week, turning a chore into a special family time filled with laughter and sunshine.
