

Name _____

International Read to Me Day

Answer Key

Correction Marks

In a cozy corner of a sunny room, Grandma Mary and her granddaughter, Sophie, sat with a colorful book in their hands. The book was filled with magical tales of faraway lands and brave adventures. As the afternoon sun streamed through the window, Grandma Mary began to read the enchanting story aloud, her warm voice filling the room.

With each word, Sophie's eyes sparkled with wonder. She listened intently as her grandma brought the characters to life with different voices and expressions. The story transported them both to a world of dragons, castles, and heroic quests. As the story reached its exciting conclusion, Sophie couldn't help but give her grandma a big hug, thanking her for the wonderful adventure they had shared through the magic of storytelling.

Complete Passage

In a cozy corner of a sunny room, Grandma Mary and her granddaughter, Sophie, sat with a colorful book in their hands. The book was filled with magical tales of faraway lands and brave adventures. As the afternoon sun streamed through the window, Grandma Mary began to read the enchanting story aloud, her warm voice filling the room.

With each word, Sophie's eyes sparkled with wonder. She listened intently as her grandma brought the characters to life with different voices and expressions. The story transported them both to a world of dragons, castles, and heroic quests. As the story reached its exciting conclusion, Sophie couldn't help but give her grandma a big hug, thanking her for the wonderful adventure they had shared through the magic of storytelling.