

Name _____

International Day for the Eradication of Poverty

Answer Key

Correction Marks

Poverty rates in the United States vary based on factors such as location, demographics, and economic conditions. The official poverty threshold set by the U.S. government is adjusted annually and is currently around $26,000 for a family of Four. According to data from the U.S. Census bureau the national poverty rate was approximately 11.4%, meaning that about 11.4% of the population fell below the poverty line. However, it's important to note that poverty rates are not uniform across all demographic groups. Poverty disproportionately affects certainly populations, including children, racial and ethnic minorities, and individuals with lower educational attainment.

Complete Passage

Poverty rates in the United States vary based on factors such as location, demographics, and economic conditions. The official poverty threshold set by the U.S. government is adjusted annually and is currently around $26,000 for a family of four. According to data from the U.S. Census Bureau the national poverty rate was approximately 11.4%, meaning that about 11.4% of the population fell below the poverty line. However, it's important to note that poverty rates are not uniform across all demographic groups. Poverty disproportionately affects certain populations, including children, racial and ethnic minorities, and individuals with lower educational attainment.