

National Hat Day

Answer Key

Correction Marks

In the bustling town of Hatville, their were a special shop known as "Hats Galore." This shop was famous for its incredible variety of hats, each with its own unique story and purpose

One sunny morning, a groups of adventurous kids decided to visit Hats galore. They found hats of all shapes and sizes, from towering top hats to cozy winter beanies. There were cowboy hats sailor hats, and even sombreros.

The kids tried on different hats and imagined themselves as daring explorers, elegant princesses, and brave firefighters. They laughed and shared stories while playing dress-up with the whimsical collection of headwear.

As they leaved the shop, each child picked a hat that resonated with them, not just for its style but for the magical adventures it promised. From that day on, hatville was filled with kids sporting a wide array of hats, each hat telling a unique story and bringing joy to the town's vibrant streets.

Complete Passage

In the bustling town of Hatville, there was a special shop known as "Hats Galore." This shop was famous for its incredible variety of hats, each with its own unique story and purpose.

One sunny morning, a group of adventurous kids decided to visit Hats Galore. They found hats of all shapes and sizes, from towering top hats to cozy winter beanies. There were cowboy hats, sailor hats, and even sombreros.

The kids tried on different hats and imagined themselves as daring explorers, elegant princesses, and brave firefighters. They laughed and shared stories while playing dress-up with the whimsical collection of headwear.

As they left the shop, each child picked a hat that resonated with them, not just for its style but for the magical adventures it promised. From that day on, Hatville was filled with kids sporting a wide array of hats, each hat telling a unique story and bringing joy to the town's vibrant streets.