

Name _____

World Reef Day

Answer Key

Correction Marks

In the deep blue ocean, the yre was a magical world hidden beneath the waves, where colorful fish darted among vibrant corals. This enchanting place was called the Coral Kingdom. It was home to Coralie, a curious mermaid with shimmering scales, and her best friend, inn the clownfish.

One sunny day, as Coralie and Finn explored the corral reefs, they noticed something unusually. The corals looked a little pale and sad. Coralie knew that the coral reefs were like bustling cities for sea creatures, and something was wrong. They swam to the Coral Council, a wise group of elder sea creatures, to find out what was happening. The council explained that climate change was causing the oceans to warmer, and it was making the corals sick. Coralie and Finn were determined to help. They organized a cleanup party with their underwater friends and started planting new corals to bring life back to their beloved Coral Kingdom. It was a remainder that even the smallest sea creatures could make a big difference in protecting their underwater home.

Complete Passage

In the deep blue ocean, there was a magical world hidden beneath the waves, where colorful fish darted among vibrant corals. This enchanting place was called the Coral Kingdom. It was home to Coralie, a curious mermaid with shimmering scales, and her best friend, Finn the clownfish.

One sunny day, as Coralie and Finn explored the coral reefs, they noticed something unusual. The corals looked a little pale and sad. Coralie knew that the coral reefs were like bustling cities for sea creatures, and something was wrong. They swam to the Coral Council, a wise group of elder sea creatures, to find out what was happening. The council explained that climate change was causing the oceans to warm, and it was making the corals sick. Coralie and Finn were determined to help. They organized a cleanup party with their underwater friends and started planting new corals to bring life back to their beloved Coral Kingdom. It was a reminder that even the smallest sea creatures could make a big difference in protecting their underwater home.