

ANSWERS

1. Compromise is a way to settle a disagreement.
2. In situations where people don't want the same thing.
3. In a compromise, both people get some of what they want and agree to not get everything that they want. Another way to think of compromise is that instead of one person coming over to another's point of view, the two meet somewhere in the middle.
- 4.