

ANSWERS

Columbus landed in the Bahamas, believing he had discovered the West Indies. He is also credited with discovering America. By 1502 Amerigo Vespucci discovered the northern coast of South America and figured out that Columbus was wrong. America was later named for Vespucci. Neither man actually discovered North America.