The Amendments of the Bill of Rights

Answers

1. The main purpose of the Bill of Rights is to ensure that everyone in the country is treated fairly and knows their rights.
2. The third promise talks about keeping homes private and not allowing soldiers to stay without a big reason.
3. The fourth promise ensures that no one can just open and read your secret diary without a proper reason, similar to how our homes are protected.
4. The sixth promise ensures that someone accused of something doesn't have to wait a long time to defend themselves.
5. The smaller pieces of the big puzzle in the United States are called states.
