

ANSWERS

1. 1861-1865
2. The American Civil War was fought between the northern section of the United States that consisted of twenty-five states and the southern section which consisted of eleven states.
3. The North was referred to as the Union, where the South was referred to as the Confederacy.
4. The source of the conflict that started the war was over the concept of states' rights. States wanted to be able to set their own laws and political powers. Most southerners wanted to be able to own slaves to work their fields and not have that taken away by the government. The Northerners wanted a more dynamic government that could banish the practice of owning others..
