

Events to a Short Story

DIRECTIONS: Cut and paste the events in order.

Tina's mother picked her up from school. "We are going shopping," her mother said. Tina did not like to go shopping. When they got to the grocery store, Tina asked her mother if she could ride in the cart. "You are getting too big to ride in the cart," Tina's mother said. Tina begged, and finally her mother agreed. Tina climbed into the basket of the shopping cart, opened the book she had brought in with her from the car, and read a story while her mother piled up groceries all around her.
